STRENGTHS, MOTIVATION

I am a motivated, persistent and enthusiastic person, who learns quickly and is thorough and demanding. I always deliver on time and on budget. Discovering the logic behind the code and the optimization process is one of the most exciting tasks for me. Apart from coding, what I like about frontend development is that I get immediate, visual feedback on my work. I really enjoy solving challenging, thought-provoking tasks. It's important for me to have support to adapt to a new environment, as well as for my professional development. I am patient and helpful and work well in a team. In stressful situations I try to stay calm and focus on finding solutions. I am committed and reliable and strive to adapt quickly to change.
